18 Aircraft Year Book. John D. Hertz, chairman of the board and president of Chicago Yellow Cab Co., Inc.; C. O. Kalman, of Kalman & Co.; R. H. McCormick, president and editor of The Chicago Tribune; William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford Motor Company the year; and yet the volume of business reported for 1928 remained approximately the same as that for the preceding twelve months. about two thousand tons. That is explained by the fact that the majority of operators did not begin to carry express until late in the year, while in 1927 most of the air express was parcel freight carried for business houses and corporations which in 1928 acquired their own private machines for that purpose. They didn't talk like comic book and vid game characters then, so R.I.P.D. has some historical accuracy built into this rich, character. The aging lawman also has a bit of kink going on with his supervisor...which spiced up the cop-buddy film aspects to keep it interesting on a whole other level. Don't miss RIPD. It was great action + hilarious writing + some of the best pacing in any film, make that any kind of film, ever. One brilliant thing was that neither RIPD agent appears like himself to living people. Ryan Reynolds usually appears like himself to us the viewer most of the time, but then when we see him in a camera or reflections, the veteran character actor James Hong (holding a banana instead of a firearm) takes Reynolds' place.
